

Why do red hot relationships go cold?

Pastor Joe talked about things that get in the way and prevent us from focusing on our relationships: careers, hobbies, even kids! Those aren't bad things, but good things that may get more attention than our spouse. What steps will you take in the next week to put your spouse or important person before other people or things?

What surprised you in the teaching point: Who sets the expectations on intimacy? Had you considered

Who sets the boundaries on intimacy? What boundaries or guardrails do you think are important to establish in relationships whether dating or marriage?

How are God's thoughts (view) of sex different than Satan's?

Why do you think God continually pursues you?
